FINAL WEEK OF FIESTA PREPARATION BEGINS

Work On Big Play Of Year Is Rushed For Opening Date

'Command Performance' Will Be Presented At Willard

In an endeavor to bring this year's Fiesta play up to the standards set in previous years, the local drama class is working "day and night" on the "Command Performance," it was revealed today by Ernest Crozier Phillips, director of the play.

The play will be presented on the evening of Fiesta Day at 8:15 p. m. in the Willard auditorium and on the following evening at the same time and place. At the first performance, doors will be open to Orange county high school seniors only. On the following night the general public will be admitted. Tickets for the second performance will sell at 35 cents to outsiders and at 25 cents to Associated Student ticket holders.

Women's Lounge To Open Tuesday

Approximately $70 has been spent in repairing the Women's lounge which will be ready for use by Tuesday, according to Miss Hazel Dawson, home economics instructor, who has been supervising the work.

The new colors of the lounge will be brown, green, and yellow. Window seats and cupboards made in the wood shop by jaysee students have been added. The davenport has been re-upholstered and new curtains are to be hung on rods made by students in the forge shop. With the aid of Byron F. Quivey, welding instructor, an iron bed has been cut down for a couch and several old couches remodeled.

Pillows for the lounge are being re-covered by the Spinsters and couch cushions are being repaired by the Las Gitanas.

June 19, 20 Set For Registration Of Summer Term

Registration for the jaysee summer term will be held June 19 and 20 at College hall, it was announced today by H. O. Russell, dean of the summer session.

Mr. Russell stated that for the first time review classes on high school subjects of French, Spanish, English, and mathematics will be given. A $7 tuition fee for any review course will be charged.

These courses are designed for the students who seek special preparation or "desire to get a head start on the taking of a new subject." The review courses are non-credit, and require no final examination.

Summer school will begin June 22 and will continue until July 31. Classes will run from 7:30 a. m. until 12 noon. Credits earned during this term will be entered on the records of the Santa Ana high school or the junior college exactly as they are in the regular terms, Mr. Russel declared.

The regular teaching staff, with additions from the high school faculty, will be maintained. Other regular facilities will be retained also.

For the junior college courses, the registration fees amount to $2.50 per person while tuition is listed as $3.50 for every unit of credit, six units being the maximum number that can be carried.

Girl Violinist Will Play Here

Jacqueline Duke, American girl violinist, will be the featured performer at the next jaysee assembly to be held in the First Baptist church on May 19.

Jacqueline Duke is a child wonder who has been praised by all of the critics she has played before.

Beth Lackey-Barron, former concert master of the San Francisco Symphony orchestra; said, "As the teacher of Ruggiero Ricci, and many other famous violin prodigies, I can assure you Jacqueline is, in my opinion, by far the most gifted girl violinist now appearing on the concert stage."

Press Speaker

Embryonic reporters from Southern California junior colleges will hear Major Walter B. Clausen, state news editor of the Associated Press, at their annual spring convention tomorrow.

El Don Editors Will Attend Press Conclave

Four staff members of El Don, will travel to Santa Monica tomorrow to attend the annual spring convention of the Southern California Press association.

Major Walter B. Clausen, state news editor of the Associated Press in charge of Southern California news, will be the chief speaker of the day. A complete program including a luncheon, presentation of awards, and round table discussions has been planned for the convention to be held at Santa Monica junior college.

Ten High Schools Enter Contest

Ten Orange county high school newspapers will compete for awards in the 1936 journalism contest sponsored by the junior college department of journalism, it was disclosed today. Winners will be announced at the annual dinner to be held at the Green Cat cafe, May 22.

Real Souvenir

Next Friday El Don will present for campus approval its third annual Fiesta Magazine. The undertaking is probably the most ambitious campus project of each college year as it entails a financial expenditure of approximately $150 by the weekly newspaper.

Part of this money is returned through the channels of advertisements placed in the publication by local merchants who see the value of the magazine to their own business, the college, and the community. The balance of the expense will be made up through the sale of the Fiesta number at ten cents a copy.

Watch for the 1936 Fiesta Magazine. It promises to be the most elaborate published to date.

An order blank for back-east mailing is inserted elsewhere in this issue. Send the magazine to your friends.

Art Exhibit Is Scheduled Here This Afternoon

Tody, between 2 and 4 o'clock, senior art students and faculty members from eight county high schools will attend the Alpha Rho Tau, honorary art society, exhibition and tea, to be held in the junior college art studio.

On exhibition will be the work of all the art classes, in junior college. Three drawings which will attract much attention, according to local students, will be on display. They are Henry VIII by Joe Koboyashi, Glasserex, by Frank Hertzberg, and Design for Home by June Holman.

In addition to the exhibition and tea will be a program of music and entertainment in the adjoining bungalow C. On the program will be several selections by the junior college girls octet and comic reading by Betty Jane Moore.

Students from Laguna Beach, Huntington Beach, Tustin, Newport Harbor, Garden Grove, Anaheim, Orange, and Santa Ana high schools will attend.

Tavern Post Will Appear Soon

The annual spring edition of Tavern Post, literary publication of the Tavern Tattlers, will be published soon, according to Thomas H. Glenn, head of the English department and Tattler advisor.

The copy prepared by members of Tavern Tattlers and English students is already in the hands of the printers and the book will be issued as soon as possible. Frances Was is acting as editor of Tavern Post this semester.

Co-eds Confer About Universities

Women students who intend to enter U. S. C., Pomona, Redlands, Whittier, Stanford, Occidental, U. C. L. A., Mills, or University of California, were given an opportunity this week to confer with representatives on courses of study, expenses, and living conditions.

Balboa Orchestra To Play At Dance In Memorial Hall

Dinner To Be Served On 'Y' Courts; Service Clubs Aid

Gil Evans and his 14-piece Balboa orchestra will play at the Fiesta dance from 5:30 till 7:30 p. m. in the Legion hall next Friday afternoon, according to Mary Lou McFarland, who completed arrangements for the dance shortly before noon today. She stated that the Beard contest judging will take place before the dance begins.

Approximately 800 Orange county high school seniors will be received on Fiesta day, according to Hospitality Chairmen Chris Ema and Phyllis Hannah. Service club members will play an active part throughout the day's program, acting as guides, registrars, ushers, and general help. Each service club will also run a booth or concession for the day.

Speaker Not Selected
Advisor Thomas H. Glenn and Charles McWaters, program chairman, announce that although the principal speaker has not been secured yet, the rest of the program is practically completed. Eben Coe, (Continued on page 4)

Orpheo Troupe Ends Spring Tours

Receiving ovations from all parts of the county, Santa Ana jaysee's Orpheo Troupe ended a successful tour of the high schools of Orange county at Orange Wednesday.

The Women's octette, under the direction of Miss Myrtle Martin, music department head, sang several numbers. Featuring some of the leads of "The Command Performance," the one act play that has been the high light of the troupe's visits was given for the twentieth time. Kenneth Stowell, Agnes Brady, and Lawrence Nowlan are in the cast of the play which is directed by Art Colman.

A Hollywood Party

By GERRIE GRIFFITH
Staff Reporter

Hollywood personalities are glamorous and at the same time all of them are real people. I learned that at a party the other night.

It is amazing to see several hundreds of people at one gathering, dressed in formal gowns and tuxedos, acting and appearing just as polite and interesting as home folks.

At a testimonial dinner recently given in honor of Carl Laemmle, retiring from Universal Pictures, many well-known and famous individuals were present.

"Uncle Carl," as Mr. Laemmle is fondly titled, is a tiny man, proud yet modest of his achievements in the motion pictures.

Irving Thalberg, master of ceremonies, introduced the speakers of note. These included Howard Eastbrook, vice-president of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Science; Herbert Rawlinson; Geo.

Eastman, Will H. Hays, dignified orator and president of Motion Picture producers, and Frank Lloyd and Rupert Hughes who rivaled for honors for jokes and clever sayings.

During the dinner there was dancing with Del Henderson, former leading man for Mary Pickford, who admits he was then very slender, but now just as good-looking, an Jimmie Fidler (he's very handsome, Mrs. Fidler), who was responsible for this grand affair. He said he didn't envy Winchell, that producers didn't usually like him although he dined at a table with one of the great—this night, that he knew very few people, but walked around saying, "hello Gene," to Mr. Hersholt, who was quietly sitting nearby, and "good evening Anne" to the star of "Anne of Green Gables," who is rapidly becoming grown up and

Honolulu Ramblings

By DOROTHY RYAN
El Don's Traveling Correspondent

III. HAWAII CHATTER
HONOLULU, T. H.—Today at noon a couple of girls from the store and I tried to crash the gates and board the Empress of Britain, but we couldn't do it. Admission was by pass only, and it was impossible to get a pass at any of the many places we tried. So we had to content ourselves with just looking at it from the outside.

Your Honolulu correspondent decided tonight to try and see Cornelius Vanderbilt Jr., and get an interview for El Don. He was sailing on the Empress of Britain. Well, I finally did get on, but I could not get any information from the purser as to the location of the Vanderbilt stateroom so I did the next best thing and got a nice steward and he showed me clear through the ship, from stem to stern. It was the most perfect thing I have seen! I am telling you, mere words would not describe it. There were lounges, smoking, card, and amusement rooms by the dozen, not to mention an auditorium, dining salon, gymnasium, swimming pools on the various decks. I was permitted to see the most expensive suite on the boat, and was taken to the kitchen. The people on the ship were all swell, I mean the employees. The passengers were all in formal dress and did I feel like a stooge in my grey outfit?

Yesterday, I had Sunday luncheon with the Coles; Mr. Cole is secretary of the Y. M. C. A. I met Jack Dod, the famous wrestler. And later they brought me back home and I jumped into my swimming suit and went down to Waikiki beach for a swim.

I had a chance to go to work for a small paper, The Hawaii Sentinel, but turned it down for the time because of salary. I received a raise and promotion at the Liberty (Continued on page 4)

Fiesta Day Ahead!

With the approach of Fiesta Day next Friday club members are completing Spanish costumes, drawing up plans for the booths to line the entrance to the arena, and working on projects for the Fiesta committee.

But what about non-club members?

Little has yet been said about the part to be played by the students who compose the majority here, but who are not included in one of the nine service clubs. It is just as vital that these people appear in costume and support the annual Spanish carnival as for any of the other groups. The success or failure of Fiesta Day will depend, to a great extent, on these students who may, if they wish, form hospitality committees of their own for the visiting high school seniors.

An atmosphere of happy, carefree life is vital to the success of Fiesta. Both students and faculty alike must cooperate to attain this color and excitement of old Spanish festival days.

To preserve the reputation made in former years of the color and gaiety of the annual Fiesta Day, the attitude of the students must be as cooperative as before. So costume for Fiesta and plan to attend the program all day. It is the one big day of all the year on the local campus.

College Comment . . .

By Walt Bandick

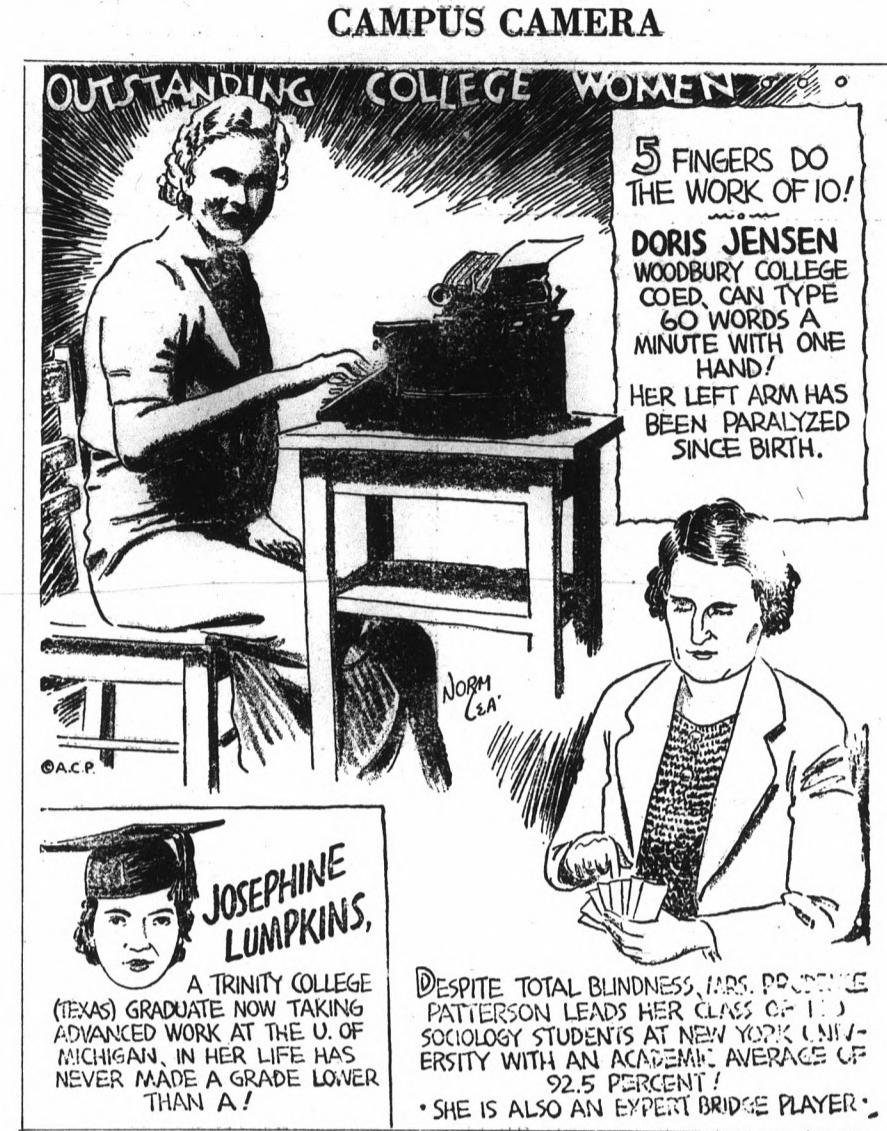

WORRIES OF AN EDITOR

For days and days and days, I have reied concientiously to put out a better El Don and write a better column. The harder I try, the more criticism I receive. Several weeks ago I gave the student dramatists a "plug" because I really felt they deserved one, and last week I did the same for Del Ano. In both cases I was told by various individuals that I was just a "boot-licker" or something like that, and was trying to gain favor with the various departments I was writing about. Now I don't know how in the world I could profit by making friends with dramatists, because I understand they are the poorest folk on the face of the earth (something like artists). Anyway, I have decided to refrain from giving anymore eloquent "plugs" and just stick to plain orchids.

An orchid to Ramieriz and Mutray, because they are going to make such an ideal Don and Dona next Friday. Another to Los Gauchos (even if I am one) for being able to turn a profit back to the school on their Spring Sport dance (a rarity worthy of a dozen orchids). Then I guess we might give one to the girl's service clubs that have contributed to their lounge (although I doubt if it ever looks as keen as the men's hovel does). And yes, the Fiesta committee above all, deserves a bouquet. If anyone desires to criticize these orchid awards he may go.

Walt Bandick has just arrived at the Lee residence. He was wearing a striped blue shirt and a bright yellow tie. "Is this outfit a little too loud?" he asked Betty. "If it is"—he reached for a front pocket and pulled out a long blue polka dot tie. He held it up. "If this is too fancy"—he put his hand in the other pocket and produced a plaid bow tie. "I guess this is kind of jazzy." Digging in his back pocket he drew out a long green tie. About this time, Betty thought he was using the old rabbit trick—only with ties. Oh yes, I nearly forgot, he wore the yellow tie.

JOHN HENRY SAYS--

ULEMAKERS PASS NEW JAYSEE RULE

Along about this time of year then all traces of spring fever have vanished and the college year's athletics are about at a conclusion, the men with the long grey beards who control this athletic mad college nation under the banner of the National Collegiate Athletic Association get together to see what changes they can bring about in the rules to make themselves felt. It usually seems to the athletes as though the rulemakers are sitting up nights in their attempt to hink up new loopholes with which to jeopardize their chances to participate in college athletics as is their innate desire.

However, this being leap year and all that, the men who got together back East this week ostensibly had turned over a new leaf and had gained a new viewpoint on the affairs of the world. They actually passed a new rule which will give the junior college athletes a break.

In their meeting just concluded, the potentates of sport passed an act permitting an athlete to participate two years in junior college activities and continue to a four year school under their jurisdiction with three years of competition still their privilege.

MAY INCREASE JAYSEE

Under the old rules, they spent one of their two years getting into the swing of things, thus allowing themselves really only one year of competition. Under the new setup, they can take the year necessary for getting acquainted and still have two years of varsity competition if they are proficient enough.

Golfers Win Conference Crown For Third Time

Golfers, Captain Preston Piper, Cliff Lee, Art Anderson and John Griset were being heralded here this week, after winning the Eastern division golf crown for the third straight year and the dual meet championship as well.

Tomorrow the boys go after more glory when the Eastern division and the Western division teams battle over the Long Beach Country club course for the southland golf title.

Dons Enter Southland Meet Tomorrow

Grapplers In First Home Battle Here Next Wednesday

Led by Captain Dick Shepard, erstwhile Southland prep champ, the local pachydermists will tangle with the Fullertonites in a return wrestling meet at the local gym next Wednesday afternoon.

In the first match of the two teams, the up-county lads proved much too wise for the newly formed Padre athletes and sent them home stinging from a 25-10 defeat.

Shepard and George Snokelburg who turned in the only two wins for the local grapplers at the first meeting of the adversaries, will lead the Dons to the mat in this non-conference battle.

The matches will for the most part be held in the lighter weights, both teams being short of behemoths. The members of the team competing for the local college will include Shepard, Snokelburg, Neil Hamilton, Clyde Files, Dick De Smet, Dick Mather, Ray Foster and Tommy Hammil.

Wayne Wilhite, former Kansas State champion and student here, Smet, Dick Mather, Ray Foster, Tommy Hammil, and Burns Drake.

Hoopmen Meet L. B. Here Again Monday

Defeated by Long Beach in their first meeting in the series of spring practice games, the local casaba cajolers plunged into serious practice here this week.

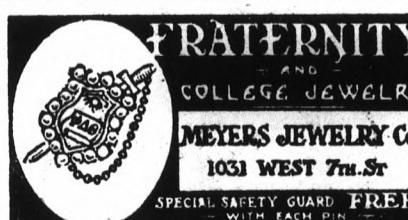

Coach Al Reboin stated here this morning that he planned to have his team whipped into shape soon so that he can allow his men to get a maximum benefit out of the practice games that he has carded.

He stated that there would be a return game with Long Beach Monday night at the local gymnasium.

In the contest this week, which Long Beach won to the tune of 27-21, petit Kenneth Nissley proved he had not lost his basket hitting eye and furnished the locals with plenty of offensive spark. Slaughter, visiting center with the beach team, was high point man for the fray.

Reboin stated that the games at the high school were free to any local fan who desired to see them.

The University of Chicago has established a new chair of comparative law. Prof. Max Rheinstein, Nazi exile, was given the post.

Netters Play Pomona In Final Conference Tilt This Afternoon

This afternoon the Padres rackets invade Pomona to play their last league match of the season. Having shown improvement with each match, the Dons are expected to give a good account of themselves against the Reds.

Defeating Riverside jaysee last week end by the score of 16 to 3, the locals feel confident of winning again today.

Swimmers Are Hosts To San Bernardino This Afternoon

Entering the high school plunge at three o'clock this afternoon, the local college natators will tangle strokes with an unheralded team from San Bernardino jaysee in the newly formed league swimming race.

Coach Haxton stated here this morning that his luminaries had come a long way in their development since they were grand slammed by the powerful Fullerton group several weeks ago and he expects them to make a good showing.

Nolan Hasson will again lead the locals to the post. Through his last year's performances, Hasson is given a potential chance of repeating as a place winner in the Southern California meet at Los Angeles next month.

With Hasson in the two dashes will be Walker Davis, who Haxton indicated has an excellent chance of developing into a swimmer of

Fullerton Holds Simon Pure Athletic Carnival

Eastern division simon pures have been invited to attend the annual Non-lettermen's meet at Fullerton junior college next Friday, it was revealed here today by Bill Cook, head coach.

Mr. Cook stated that the local college had not entered this event for several years and it was doubtful if there would be a Santa Ana delegation there this time as the events come the same day as the local Fiesta program. However, he indicated that he would send in an entrance blank for any aspirant who wished him to do so.

Two Divisions Will Vie For Honors At Claremont Field

Cook Limits Locals To Small Team or Meet

When East meets West what happens?

This should be answered tomorrow when over 200 Junior Collegian track and field performers of the Eastern and Western division conferences meet at Pomona College for the championship.

Compton, Pasadena Out

Compton and Pasadena, the two strongest teams in the Southland, will not compete tomorrow. Their athletic teams freelanced this year after they were ousted from the conference last season. They would be rated one-two tomorrow without question if they were competing.

Glendale, Los Angeles and Riverside are rated an even chance of winning the championship.

Local Squad Small

The Dons will enter a small squad of men and should score 15 points or more. Jim Noe, the Padre's only winner at Riverside, will face plenty of competition in his favorite event. Coach Cook announced today that besides Noe, he will take Bill Greschner, shot and hurdles; Art Craft, shot; Wilburn Anderson, shot; Joe Frias, two mile; Frank Ochoa, 880; Frank Boyd, hurdles; Al Parr, broad jump, and the relay team of Major Anderson, Tom Matzen, Boyd and Ochoa. Bob Clark and Bob Reif, fifth place winners at Riverside in the javelin and hurdles, may also go, Cook stated.

EL DON MAIL BOX

SANTA ANA, May 4 (To the Editor of El Don)—What is the matter with El Don? Don't you consider the story of La Dona and El Don enough to make more of it than just one sentence? There are a good many who, even though they know the outcome of the election, would like to know something about it. Perhaps the history, etc. And possibly there are some who don't catch on quickly, that haven't learned how the election came out. Personally I am disappointed in El Don for not taking advantage of this story.

Sincerely,

Dick Clark

Dear Dick:

I can see your point very well, but if we had played up this story as you suggested we would have demonstrated our ignorance in the art of newspaper publishing. One of the unforgiveable crimes in the realm of the newspaper is to play up old news which has appeared in other papers the day before. If the student body had held the elections on Thursday we most certainly would have bannered that story on Friday. As it was, we had no alternative, and you should know that I certainly would have liked to put a banner on the story since one of my fellow club members was elected Don.

Respectfully,
Walt Bandick
Editor, El Don

El Don Magazine Takes Shape

The third annual edition of El Don's Fiesta Day magazine will be published May 15, it was reported today by Walt Bandick, editor.

The magazine will issue 1300 copies, which is the largest circulation in its years of publication. It is said to be the only junior college publication of its kind in the world.

sophisticated.

In the crowd were John Boles, too handsome to be true; two dozen newspaper photographers; Mr. and Mrs. Jack L. Warner lost in the mob; and Walter Huston, almost inconspicuous because of his naturalness.

Others present were Louella Parsons, very understanding and interested in the future of young writers; Sid Grauman, who looked on approvingly; Welsey Ruggles enacting the deep thinker; and Norma Shearer, who is very lovely.

Along the sidewalk, the halls, and the lobbies dozens of people line up to get glimpses of their favorites. Yet the crowd was unconscious of the stares, and thoroughly enjoyed a gay evening.

Indeed, Hollywood parties are nice, this one especially, with Jay Widener's society orchestra, and brief shots from Uncle Carl's epic making pictures — "Hiawatha," "Ivanhoe," "Hunchback of Notre Dame," "All Quiet on the Western Front," and "King of Jazz."

The evening dinner will be served on the north courts of the 'Y' building, the arena will be set up behind the Board of Education building, booths will be built on the parking lot, and the play will be presented in the Wilard auditorium.

The Bowers Memorial museum on North Main street will be opened especially for the day in which will be exhibits prepared and planned by Nelson Kogler. According to advance reports, approximately 150 costumes, consisting of sashes and boleros, are to be ready for the day, the work being supervised by Frances Was.

Construction of the arena has been in progress by Tom Lacy and his crew. Kenneth Nissley is preparing the bull fight for the afternoon program. Complete advertising has been arranged by John Rabe.

Harris Warren, general chairman for Fiesta day, has supervised the entire work for the celebration.
